

Sri Lanka: A Multicultural Melting Pot?

The term "Pearl of the Indian Ocean" reflects Sri Lanka's significance to ancient explorers, traders and colonialist alike. This significance is observable through the island's depiction on ancient maps. The size and details on this 15th century Florentine map (pictured) shows the prominent place it held in the minds of the cartographers of the era. Sri Lanka of the past could be considered akin to modern day Dubai, which became a sanctuary for people from across the globe. Unlike Dubai, many arrivals made the island their new home and contributed immensely to its ethnic, cultural, religious, culinary and linguistic diversity.

Sinhala and Tamil New Year (Avurudu) celebration is believed to be deep rooted in Sinhalese traditions. This celebration is a classic example of how centuries of settlement have influenced and become intimately intertwined within the tapestry of Sri Lankan life. Rabana from the Javan communities provide the iconic rhythm to "Dontha Babakkata" amongst many other raban pada. Lace tablecloth brought by the Portuguese cover the Avurudu table, whilst Kokis from the Dutch period adds colour to the spread alongside sponge cake, milk toffee and tea introduced by the British. Athirasa, dodol and sambals contributed by the Javan communities are served alongside pani walalu and murukku introduced by communities from India. Avurudu celebrations would be much less endearing in the absence of the many contributions from the aforementioned communities

Many things quintessential to Sri Lankan culture including religions (such as Buddhism, Catholicism, Islam and Hinduism), sports (such as cricket and rugby), and vegetables (such as pumpkins, potatoes, tomatoes, chillies and cashews) amongst others have been introduced to the island from across the globe. The absence of bread, hoppers, string hoppers, dosa, vada and pittu from our breakfast tables, or biriyani, lamprais, potato/pumpkin/cashew/bean curries from our lunch tables would lead to a vapid culinary landscape on the island.

Modern day Sri Lanka is a result of true intergenerational multiculturalism. Sri Lankans have not just embraced the cultures and cuisines but each other. Millennia of interethnic marriages/unions have resulted in a unique situation where no two siblings look alike, or where no two families practice the same set of customs. Our island is a place that is more multicultural than we are made to believe and we should embrace this diversity in order to appreciate the truly unique place Sri Lanka occupies in the world.

Among Randika and Jerome's many interests is a deep passion to understand Sri Lankan history and culture. This has been facilitated through exposure to multiculturalism through their travels and living experiences in multiple countries.

NAIDOC Week 2021

NAIDOC Week celebrations are held across Australia each July to celebrate the history, culture and achievements of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. NAIDOC is celebrated not only in Indigenous communities, but by Australians from all walks of life. The week is a great opportunity to participate in a range of activities and to support your local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community.

NAIDOC originally stood for 'National Aborigines and Islanders Day Observance Committee'. This committee was once responsible for organising national activities during NAIDOC Week and its acronym has since become the name of the week itself.

Healing Country means finally resolving many of the outstanding injustices which impact on the lives of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

Book Review: The White Girl by Tony Birch

It is post-Second World War in a rural, isolated community in Australia where the white folk live in town while the Aborigines live in the shanty-towns outside town. Australia is operating under Assimilation policy and the Board for the Protection of Aborigines is enforcing the 1909 Act and its 1915 Amendment which allows the forcible removal of Aboriginal children, especially those of mixed skin colour, from their parents to be institutionalised or adopted into white families.

Odette is a proud Aboriginal woman, who has lived in Country, survived life on a Mission, worked for white folk and is now trying to live a quiet life, avoiding attention from the town authorities. She is also the sole carer for her young granddaughter Sissi who was abandoned by Odette's daughter and from whom she has had no news for many years. Sissi is blissfully happy in the loving care of her grandmother and oblivious to the grave danger she is in - Sissi has fair skin.

When a new policeman arrives in town and is seen parked outside Odette's house watching Sissi, Odette knows that she needs to do something fast but what can she do? She can't leave town without permission from the police, she has no family anywhere else, she doesn't know where would be safe to go or even how to get there, she is sick and weak herself. All she knows is that she must protect Sissi and she will do whatever it takes to prevent her beloved grand-daughter from being taken away, even risk her life.

This is a story of the oppression of Aboriginal people, compounded by the vulnerability of women in rural communities, menaced by authorities under the guise of protection. It is a story of the immense courage of women to be independent, support their people with whatever means they have and risk their lives to protect what is most precious to them - their children. It is a story of the small acts of kindness of strangers, black and white, that are powerful enough to change lives.

The Month of July

July is named after the Roman emperor Julius Caesar. In July, while the northern hemisphere enjoys mid-summer, the shortest day passed on 21 June, the southern hemisphere dreams of lengthening days, albeit cold.

According to western tradition, July birthstone is Ruby, the gemstone associated with contentment, love, and integrity. The flower of July is the Water Lilly symbolic of love and life. The full moon in July is known as the Buck Moon because it is around this time that new antlers emerge from a buck's forehead. The full moon poya day in July is significant to Sri Lankan Buddhists. It is known as the day the Buddha's tooth relic, the symbol of sovereignty of the land was brought by Princess Hemamala and Prince Dantha.

In the Buddhist world, July is known as the month of Esala. It commemorates the Buddha's deliverance of the first sermon to the five ascetics and setting in motion the Wheel of the Dhamma at Saranath. It is also the month during which the Great Renunciation of Prince Siddhartha occurred.

For Sri Lankan Catholics July is significant because Our Lady of Madu is celebrated in the first week of July.

In Australia, July marks the Black History month, dedicated to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander history, heritage and cultures which acknowledge and celebrate First Australians' achievements and contributions. Black History month is aligned with 2021 NAIDOC WEEK from 4 – 11 July whose theme is "Heal Country".

06 වෙනිදා විය. ජෝතිපාලයන් කොල්ලුපිටිය Turret Road හී, පිහිටා තිබූ සරසවි ශබ්දාගාරයේ ගීත කිහිපයක, පටිගත කිරීමක යෙදී සිටියේය.

ජෝති සොයා ආ පණිවිඩකරුවෙකු නිසා, ඔහු පටිගත කිරීම අතරමග නවතා දමන්නට අවසර පැතීය.

ඒ වනවිට ජෝතිගේ දයාබර බිරිඳ වන 'විත්ටර් බ්ලොසම්' මහත්මිය රෝහල් ගතව සිටි බැවින්, ජෝතිට පිටත්වීමට අවසර ලැබිණි. ජෝති කෙලින්ම පැමිණියේ රෝහලේ සිටි තම බිරිඳගේ යහන වෙතය. බිරිඳ දුටු ජෝතිගේ හදවත, සංතෝෂයෙන් ඉපිල ගියේ, දෑස් වල සතුටු කදුළු එකතු කරමිනි. ඒ, තම බිරිඳට තුරුල්වී, පිපෙන්නට බලාසිටින රෝස පාට පොහොට්ටුව දැකීමෙන්ය.

ඒ පොහොට්ටුව නම්, *ජෝති-වින්ටර්* ගේ කුළුඳුල් දියණියයි.

තම දියණිය දැක බලාගත් ජෝති, කෙලින්ම ගියේ තමා දේවත්වයෙන් සළකන කරුණාරත්න අබේසේකර මහතානන් හමුවීමට ය.

"කරු අශ්යේ, මට දුවෙක් ලැබුනා...", "දුවට කියන්න මට සින්දුවක් ලියල දෙන්න ඕනෙ .." ජෝති කිවේ සතුටින් ඉපිලෙමිනි.

කරු කඩදාසියක වචන පේලි හතරක් ලියා, තමා සමග අසුන් ගෙන සිටි අජන්තා රණසිංහයන්ට දුන්නේ, ඉතුරු ටික උඹ ලියහං කියමින් ය. අජන්තා, ගීතය සම්පූර්ණ කළේ ඒ මොහොතේ මය.

ගීතය පමණක් නොව, තම කුළුඳුල් දියණියට ගණ පිහිටුවා හදාගත් තමක්ද 'කරු-ගුරු'ගෙන් ලබාගත් ජෝති, නැවත ගියේ රටක් රාජායක් ලද්දෙකු මෙනි. ඒ ගීතය නම්,

'මට වාසනාවන් මගේ ජීවිතේවන් - පොඩි දු කුමාරි ඉතිං

සුදු මූණ ඉඹලා පණ සේ රකින්නම් - හදලා වඩා මා අතින්'

කුළුදුලේ උපන් දියණිය ගේ නම, වරුණි විලෝචිනී ජෝතිපාල විය.

When's the best time to slow down and smell the roses?

Just to address the elephant in the

This is a new series that highlights their life and progress.

Over the past 15 years, many children and young adults have contrib-

"My particular professional interests are in Public Health (think bird flu and SARS), epidemiology and Veterinary teaching"

So, I wrote that sentence over a decade ago in Dæhæna – and hoo boy haven't some of those themes become relevant recently?

In those 11 years since I wrote that little article, I've completed my degree in Veterinary Science (ticking that box of getting that honorarium of "Dr" before my name), completed a Masters in veterinary public health, became a US-recognised specialist in Veterinary Preventive Medicine, worked in a range of locations as a veterinarian, got married, had a kid, and now work for the Government in the field of Biosecurity and exotic animal disease surveillance across northern Australia.

To quote Farmer Hogget from Babe – "That'll do pig"

Which is pretty much the theme of what I'm keen to write on – when is it enough?

I don't ever remember anyone having that chat about what the end goal was - job security? A decent salary? A family? Unlimited smashed avo on toast?

I just find it funny that I've spent the better part of my life forever chasing career goals to suddenly be on the other side to go "wait up, is this what makes me sleep well at night?" Cause in the end, it's not the number of degrees I have nor the number of committees I have chaired. It's those little moments of day-care drop offs/pickups, the secret hope that I'll finally cook a meal that will be eaten in its entirety by a toddler, or the sweet joy of walking in the outback and appreciating the wonder of our unique wildlife. To paraphrase comedian Hamish Blake, at some point in my life, I'll be 80 and would likely pay

Stories Behind Names of Places in Sri Lanka: How Galahitiyawa got its Name

Galahitiyawa, is a village in the Western Province of Sri Lanka. It is famous today because of the education center Galahitiyawa Central College.

How this name came to use has a beautiful story. It was the time that there were no motor cars in the world. Our main way of carrying goods to places was the bullock cart. To ensure security bullock carts got together and went on the gravel roads as a team. This was called "gel saathuwa"

The country was not thickly populated like today and moving as a team had many advantages. They normally travelled a distance of about twelve miles a day and rested overnight and moved on. As a result of this practice, small business places came up in places where the cartmen rested.

The cartmen had the practice of seeking the help of gods in the area they entered. In Godakawela, there was a small place where the cartmen as a practice prayed to the local deity specially for their protec-

One day there was a young arrogant cartman who did not want to go to the deity and pray and continued the journey. He argued with the others and moved on. As he passed the place of worship the bulls refused to move and the cart was stuck as if the load became heavy to be pulled. The young cartman tried his best to move forward but he failed. He was in tears and pleaded to the deity to forgive him.

The refined Sinhala word for the cart is "ගැල", "නිට්ය" means "Stopped". The place where the cart was stuck became "Galahitiyawa". What a meaningful name?

The Federal Budget and Immigration

The federal government budget proposals recently introduced in the parliament, included a number of proposals that would affect immigration.

Following is an extract of an interview Nawroos Naeem had with Mrs. Anoja Vithanage, a Solicitor from Melbourne who specialises in Australian Migration Law, on Radio 4EB Sri Lankan broadcast.

Q: First and foremost, what are the proposals in the federal budget that may affect future visa applicants and current visa holders?

Primarily the budget has proposed to maintain the number of visas issued under the Australian migration planning scheme at the same level as the previous financial year, which is at 160,000 visas. The Australian international borders are more likely to remain closed until mid 2022 and this presents a great opportunity for those who are already within Australia to apply for permanent residency visas.

Now the students in the hospitality sector can work full time. Further, students in the hospitality sector have been given a further benefit, that is to be allowed to apply for a 408 government endorsed visa introduced during the pandemic situation, which has a duration of 12 months.

Q: So how about visa applicants who are in Sri Lanka at the moment? Do they have any opportunity at all to come to Australia?

In the case of student visas, many universities have allowed their offshore international students to begin their studies online. So, if anyone is planning to come to Australia for their higher education, they can enrol in universities and obtain a student visa. But until the borders are opened, they cannot arrive in Australia. Once the borders are opened, they can come to Australia and resume their studies. It must be noted that the time period that these student visa holders spend in their home countries will be considered as time spent in Australia for all future visa purposes.

Q: To make this clearer, does this mean that holders of business and investor visas and family stream visas do not require a travel exemption to come to Australia?

A: A travel exemption is not required for family visas. However, they will have to comply with the quarantine requirements of Australia.

Q: You mentioned that visa holders can also come to Australia under compassionate circumstances. Similarly, can someone who is in Australia travel to Sri Lanka on compassionate grounds?

A: If you are an Australian citizen or a permanent resident, you would still have to apply and obtain an approval to travel to another country. Once the approval is granted, it is valid for three months from the date of approval. Of course, you must also comply with all the quarantine requirements of the country you are travelling to.

Q: One final question - what is the advice that you can give our listeners today?

A: When considering all the circumstances, this is a situation that is a very positive environment for international students and temporary visa holders in Australia to apply for their permanent residency. The fact that that the Migration Planning Scheme has allowed for up to 160,000 visas for the next financial year and the shortage of skilled workers within Australia are silver linings in this pandemic situation. Therefore my best advice is to prepare yourselves to apply for permanent residency. Complete all your educational qualifications necessary for your occupation and try to fulfill all the requirements necessary.

Youth Corner: SAQ Youth

The SAQ Youth (Sinhala Association of Queensland Youth) this year is happy to be part of a team that embraces our Sri Lankan identity while aiming to bring together other young Sri Lankans of Brisbane. We had some of the SAQ Youth committee write their own viewpoints on why and how they would like to connect with the Sri Lankan community, to provide an insight to the wider community about the SAQ Youth team.

"When I moved to Australia at the age of 9, it was to a regional town without a Sri Lankan community that we moved. As nice as the town was, when I was living there for the duration of my schooling, I wished there were others my age around me who could understand my Sri Lankan values. So, when I moved to Brisbane for University, I made sure to connect with the Sri Lankan community, especially via SAQ Youth, so that I could form friendships with others who can understand those values. I have met some amazing people through SAQ Youth and have had the opportunity to learn more about Sri Lankan cooking and culture through the events we've run.

A NEW BOOK RELEASE BY

Dr. Raj Aseervatham

(Suitable for Business Leaders and Management Students)

Leading Tomorrow: How Effective Leaders Change Paradigms, Build Responsible Brands, and Transform Employees

Publisher: Routledge CRC Press Available from Leading Book Stores

This book examines what it takes for the business leaders of tomorrow to meet rapidly evolving societal expectations. As investors, customers, employees, communities, and governments begin to re-imagine how successful organisations should behave, tomorrow's leaders are being called to meet newer, and higher, levels of accountability. Tracing the evolution of societal expectations, catalysed by factors such as the spectre of climate change, the ascendancy of human rights, and the rise of social media and societal interconnectivity, the narrative illustrates the trajectory that our societal ecosystem is already mapping out for us. This book guides the reader through the reasons why change is inescapable, and how successful leaders might ignite the cultural transformation in themselves, their employees, and their organisations to keep their institutions relevant and valuable to society today and tomor-

Raj has more than 30 years' experience in private industry and consulting, as well as some early government experience. He has worked across a broad range of sectors in the United States, South America, Europe, Asia, and Africa. His qualifications include a Ph.D. in engineering and an MBA majoring in international projects. He is a professional non-executive board director and consultant, with a governance focus on authentic, ethical, societally-relevant business leadership driving profitable, effective, and sustainable organisational outcomes.

I want to continue to connect with the Sri Lankan community so that I can learn even more and get to know the Brisbane Sri Lankan community more." -Manuli

"I would like to connect further with the Sri Lankan community because I think having a sense of cultural belonging is important. Having moved to Australia when I was only eight months old, connecting with the Sri Lankan community has allowed me to make new friends and learn more about Sri Lankan customs and traditions." - Sachini

"I think a main aspect of being a Sri Lankan living in Australia is the cross-over of cultural identity. Even though I grew up with a Sri Lankan background with Sri Lankan values, I also have Australian values and views. Because of this, it was difficult for me to be fully understood among Australians, but I also struggled to identify with people back in Sri Lanka. Being with the Sri Lankan community here, it merges both sides for me, and it's with them that I've felt the most understood and at ease. I've felt more proud to be a Sri Lankan since connecting with the community here." -Nethmini

In the future we hope to continue collaborating with other organisations of people with various identities and see more new faces joining the SAQ Youth team.

Multicultural Event to Celebrate Vesak in Gold Coast

The Gold Coast Buddhist Association Inc (GCBAI), also known as Gold Coast Buddhist Centre (GCBC), organised a multicultural event to celebrate Vesak (Lord Buddha's birth, enlightenment and passing away) at the Robina Auditorium on Saturday, 29 May 2021. The overall theme of the celebration was "The role of spirituality in promoting social and emotional wellbeing".

Venerable Kottukachchiye Pagngnasiri Thero, the Abbot of the GCBAI, primarily guided the planning and execution of the event. This was the first time the GCBAI organised such an event and it brought together all the Buddhist cultures and the friends of Buddhism in the Gold Coast for the first time under one roof.

The event was well attended with more than 200 attendees from various communities. Despite the covid restrictions that were in force, the number participating was more than expected. There was a very positive response from all the communities and friends of Buddhism in the Gold Coast region.

The programme consisted of 22 different well-balanced elements. Venerable Pagngnasiri Thero, gave a speech on the overall theme of the celebration. The Thai community provided an enchanting item termed the Thai Hammered Dulcimer Show. The keynote speech was given by Dr. Stephan Bradford of the University of Queensland. Councillor Ryan Bayldon-Lumsden spoke on behalf of the Gold Coast Council. There was a presentation by the Venerable Tseten of the Buddhist Education Services. The children of the Thai Community presented a fascinating Flower Dance. Venerable Thubten Chokyi spoke briefly on behalf of the Australian Sangha Association. Reverend Tetsuyu Wilson, President of the Queensland Sangha Association, made a brief presentation. A charming musical item, Sound of Thailand, was performed by Ms. Peranya Visitchantaragoon. Mr. Robert Fraser spoke on behalf of the Thai Buddhist Temple in Narang.

Special mention must be made of all the children of the Gold Coast Buddhist Centre (GCBC) Dhamma School who presented the Bakthi Gee (Paramitha Bala Poojitha Poojitha), Pooja Dance, Uttama Muni Dalada dance, and a dance for Traditional Sri Lankan Drums. The teachers of GCBC Dhamma school contributed immensely to this event by training and guiding the students. A speech and presentation was also delivered by children of the Sati Pasala towards mindfulness.

An exceptional citation must be made to acknowledge the contribution of the dozens of volunteers who looked after the logistics, the provision of free vegetarian snacks and the 4EB Radio for media coverage. A team of members representing GCBC Dhamma School & youth club compered the whole show.

The event was in part sponsored by the Queensland Government, whose representative the Honourable Leanne Linard MP, Minister for Children and Youth Justice, and Minister for Multicultural Affairs was unable to attend. The GCBAI expressed its thanks and gratitude to the Queensland Government for this sponsorship. Also, His Worship Tom Tate the Mayor of the City of Gold Coast sent a congratulatory message because he could not attend the celebrations. In all the celebration of Vesak was a serendipitous occasion for all those who attended the event.

EUROPEAN MASTERPIECES FROM THE METROPOLITAN MUSEUM OF ART, NEW YORK

12 JUN 2021 - 17 OCT 2021

GOMA | GALLERY 1.1 THE FAIRFAX GALLERY, GALLERY 1.2, GALLERY 1.3 ERIC & MARION TAYLOR GALLERY

Spanning 500 years, 'European Masterpieces from The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York' offers a breath-taking journey from the 1420s and emerging Renaissance to conclude at the height of early twentieth century postimpressionism. This once-in-alifetime opportunity also allows visitors to experience works by painters such as Rembrandt, Rubens, Turner, Degas, Renoir, Cézanne, and Monet, direct from The Met's collection – one of the finest collections of European painting in the world, the majority of which rarely leave permanent display in New York..

Highlights of the exhibition include Fra Angelico's finely painted altarpiece The Crucifixion c. 1420-23; Titian's poetic Venus and Adonis of the 1550s; the immediacy and drama of Caravaggio's The Musicians 1597; Rembrandt's painterly Flora of c.1654; Vermeer's beautifully observed Allegory of the Catholic Faith c.1670-72, and van Gogh's idyllic The Flowering Orchard 1888.
